Employee wellness

Are you making your employees' wellness a priority?

Simeka Health understands that choosing a healthcare solution for your employees can be daunting. The good news is that you don't have to struggle any further to understand the various benefits and cost structures associated with the multitude of medical schemes in the market today – Simeka Health can help you make the right choice for you employees.

Your employees are your greatest asset

When an employee falls ill and is not at work, your business suffers too. As an employer, it is important to have the wellness of your employees at heart by providing them with a suitable healthcare solution.

Our offering

We offer a comprehensive service to both employer and employee.

- Assessing your employees' current health benefit status, and providing you with alternative healthcare solutions and product comparisons.
- Communicating regularly about health industry developments and changes.
- Providing you, as the employer, with scheme benefits, costing and administrative support on an ongoing basis, offering your employees:

- » Advice and education when newly appointed
- » Wellness days in conjunction with medical schemes and HR
- » Assistance with membership and tax certificates
- » Medical Gap Cover solutions
- » Regular wellness tips

- » Resolving claims and benefit queries
- » Clarification of benefits, administrative procedures and costs
- » Membership details and status modification
- » Product information and managing disputes with medical schemes and service providers
- » Advice on medical scheme option changes.

Wellness – it's about productivity

Does your business face health, wellness and absenteeism challenges?

Simeka Health organises on-site wellness days and pharmacy screening services, together with bespoke on-line services to accurately profile and benchmark your business's health and wellness status. We then deploy focussed wellness programmes including nutrition, exercise and general well-being.

Simeka Health also understands that escalating premiums make it difficult for employers to offer healthcare subsidies as part of their employment benefits.

Have you considered a primary care on-site clinic?

Having a qualified resident nurse on site, who can consult and dispense medication to employees, will assist in making healthcare affordable and improve absenteeism. It makes sense and it works.

Are your employees protected against unexpected medical aid expenses?

Even the most comprehensive medical schemes seldom pay for the total cost of in-hospital specialist treatment. In essence, gap cover provides you with financial assistance for the portion of in-hospital specialists' bills that is not usually covered in full by a medical scheme.

Contact us
